

FEE BREAKDOWN

Playa Vista

For transparency, we've put together a list of fees you may pay as a resident. Some of these fees are required, and others are optional. In order to calculate the total monthly expense of renting your apartment home, take your unit's "Base Rent" (i.e., the monthly cost of your apartment home without factoring in any additional fees), and add in any fixed costs, usage-based expenses, and optional extras. As you will see, some fees are "fixed," meaning that the amount does not change, and others are subject to external factors making it difficult to predict exact monthly costs (e.g., utility usage; optional/situational fees). If you have any questions, please reach out to us directly - we would love to hear from you!

Standard Security Deposit subject to change based on screening results; total security deposit(s) will not exceed any legal maximum. Resident is responsible for maintaining insurance pursuant to the Lease. Residents are responsible for damage that exceed ordinary wear and tear. Some items may be taxed under applicable law. This form does not modify the lease. Additional fees may apply in specific situations as detailed in the application and/or lease agreement, which can be requested prior to the application process. All fees are subject to the terms of the application and/or lease. Residents may be responsible for activating and maintaining utility services, including but not limited to electricity, water, gas, and the internet, as specified in the lease agreement. This worksheet may not include fees or costs charged directly by third parties (such as utility expenses billed directly by the utility or resident insurance policies if obtained independently by the resident). Although these charges may arise during the course of leasing a unit, they are set, billed, and collected independently by third parties, not the property.
